

Be sure to register before all the seats are taken. The air conditioned charter bus leaves Aitkin on July 26th at 9:00 AM. Participants will stay at the Best Western Ramkota Hotel in Bismarck, North Dakota.

See where your electricity comes from, how coal is mined at Falkirk Mine, walk through Coal Creek Station – the largest power plant in North Dakota, learn about ethanol production and see the Garrison Dam – the fifth largest earthen dam in the world. Educate yourself on the environmental programs , reclaiming land and the innovation of fly ash.

The Coal Creek Tour fee is $135 per person (paid with registration). Includes: transportation, lodging (two people per room for two nights), and all meals except breakfasts and Thursday supper. If you prefer a single room, the registration fee is $200.
